DESK-THUMPING MPS HAIL TORY VICTORY

OTTAWA (CP)—Progressive Conservative MPs, obviously pleased at their party's winning of three of Monday's four byelections, showed their feelings in the Commons today by giving Prime Minister Diefenbaker a 25-second round of deak-thumping applause.

It came when Mr. Diefenbaker rose to reply to a ques-tion by Opposition Leader Pearson.

A Conservative Victory

ment has good cause for satisfaction in the results of yesterday's byelections. To win three polls out of four is a notable victory for a government facing grave problems and under strong criticism, a not-able defeat for the Liberal party.

But the lesson of the byelections probably is not as simple as it looks The government held King's, in Prince Edward Island, by a hair's breadth against a Liberal candidate almost guaranteed to lose in ad-yance. Its success in Restigouche-Madawaska, New Brunswick, was narrow and unexpected. In Esquimalt-Saanich it would have been surprising indeed if such a well-es-tablished Conservative stronghold had changed its mind so soon after the departure of Mr. Pearkes who had held it so long without serious challenge, but here, too the gov-ernment's victory was extremely narrow. In total vote for the four ridings the Liberals led the Conservatives by 1,500 and confirmed the pollsters' estimate of 44% of the popular vote.

The big surprise, of course, was Leeds, the traditionally Conservative seat in the heart of Conserva tive Ontario. There a young Liberal and newcomer to politics won by a large majority. The significance of his election will not be lost on the government and the nation. When the Liberal opposition can break into the government's citadel of Ontario and where the next general election may well be decided, the political gravity of the nation, measured at its fulcrum, clearly is

Were it not for the result in Leeds, the government might well be inclined to call a general election this year before it has to face some wrenching decisions, but Leeds must give it pause. The government can-not hope to be re-elected without a massive majority in Ontario and that majority must now be considered questionable.

In Esquimalt-Sanich, the constituency of most interest to Victoria, Mr. Chatterton deserves the congratulations of the public, in ch this newspaper joins. His was evidently a personal victory. He was a good reeve of Saanich. We

It is interesting to speculate on the outcome if, as in the other three ridings, the contest had been between the two national parties. Esquimalt-Saanich, with five candidates, registered an overwhelming vote against the government and Mr. Chatterton is the beneficiary of that split. But even with less than a third of the total vote he was elected and that verdict must be accepted cheerfully by his rivals.

At all events, the local byelection confirmed the fact, apparent in all the other constituencies, that the struggle of national politics lies between the Conservative and Liberal parties. They are the only practical alternatives before the Canadian

The so-called New Party, which is only the CCF with a new name, did not venture to nominate in three ridings and came third in Esquimalt-Saanich, increasing its vote by 2,000. This is a sobering prelude to the party's founding convention in late summer and an obvious commentary on the influence of Mr. T. C. Douglas, its prospective leader, whose appearance here probably damaged Mr. Hamilton more than it helped him. As yesterday's events show, the CCF remains a splinter, calculated mainly to injure the Liberal party.

The Social Credit party is not yet even a splinter, here or anywhere else in Canada. For its hopes in national politics, and for the prestige of Mr. Bennett in particular, the Esquimalt-Saanich vote is a shattering disappointment, although

A S VICTORIA COLLEGE MADE academic history yesterday—presenting graduates for degrees for the first time-two characteristics of the institution from its earliest days were underscored.

Alumnus Dr. Charles J. Armstrong, president of the University of Nevada and one of Victoria's most distinguished scholars, empha-sized the standard of excellence which has been a hallmark of Victoria College. He was joined in his praise of that distinction by Dr. A. E. Grauer, Chancellor of the University of British Columbia, who conferred the degrees.

The second characteristic was stressed by Dr. H. H. Hickman, College principal, who spoke of the "family intimacy" which has exfsted within the institution throughout its existence.

This was a relationship which brought the teacher and the student into close accord, made the achievement and effort of the latter a matter of pressing interest and concernto the former and established in the College a unique ability to foster the individual's development in ways usually limited to the relatively small institution.

The significance of the two characteristics was not lost on the university status, a host of parents and friends which unconscious pledge.

Nor should numbers stand in the way of continued high standards of excellence. That excellence is the recognized stamp Victoria College has placed on the young men and women who have been its outstanding students. It is the one factor, above all, which should be held before the students of the future.

MRS. FAIRCLOUGH could make a M still better case for the Canadian living standard if she compared it to life of the ordinary people of any vious time. In a physical sense their previous time. In a physical sense their habits would disgust any modern pig. In another sense Mrs. Fairclough's comparison is questionable.

As an eminently practical politician, popular values and current myths of the voters, that a living standard, cunningly calculated in figures and argued daily in Parliament, is the largest myth of these times. No politician, in a pre-election year, is likely to say that the myth may be quite false. No one, ex-cept Dr. Brock Chisholm, of Sooke, is inclined to shoot Santa Claus, and even when shot by such an expert hunter that old gentleman refuses to lie down.

Britain's Big Decision

In any case, we must set against any possible disadvantage two immense general advantages. Not only should we be shielded against formidable competition in world markets, but we should be creating a new focus of economic power, a hive of beneficent activity, a centre for the accumulation of capital and, as it were, a great lamp before whose rays, who knows, the cancer of the Cold Warmight one day shrivel and die might one day shrivel and die.

LAST STRIDE DECIDES JUNIOR SPRINT TITLE

"It was bound to happen, even if we did surprise a few people," the tall, silver-haired man said.

'After all Oak Bay won't have a proper track until next year. Those kids of ours have been training on grass. I can remember 40 years ago playing rugby on the same field. You can go out there today and see the holes in it that were there in my day."

This was John Loomer, teacher at Oak Bay High, speak His school had just won the inter-high track and field met. The Oaks haven't exactly made a habit of winning it.
Last time it happened was 1948. Every year between Victoria High, larger, bigger and faster, had rubbed Oak Bay noses in the cinders.

Sportsmanship . . . or Winning

It was a tasty win for the gentlemen academicians from Oak Bay. But not all of them behaved like gentlemen.

Gary Taylor, their youthful, fretful coach, exhibited as that sportsmanship is fine but winning is even better.

Mr. Taylor blew several fuses when Oak Bay's Tom ith slid several furlongs on his nose in the senior "Foul, murder, disqualification" were among his sport-ing ejaculations. The officials looked at Taylor as if he was talking through his wig.

They claimed that through their eyeballs, Smith had merely locked elbows with Mount View's Rick Skermer. Skermer, a personable 78-inch slab of muscle and sinew,

"I swing my arms pretty wide when I run," he said. "I felt my elbow hit him (Smith) but he banged me a couple of times too. It was just an accident,"

Coach Taylor continued to rant, didn't even notice that Skermer was the first to offer Smith his hand.

Later assorted Oak Bay teachers fumed and fussed when Archie McKinnon spoke glowingly on the public address system of John Valiant, only the best schoolboy miler in Greater Victoria history. "He's only one runner, the mile is just another race," snorted an OB scholar in undisguised disgust.

They were right in a way. In all his recent mile cruises there has been only one runner at the finish—John Valiant. there has been only one runner at the linish John Vallant. You could practically put the entire Oak Bay school grounds between Vallant and the rest of the field. Their lack of appreciation for the mile is hard to understand. The sprints are a test of speed.

. the two-mile is a test of courage . . . the mile is a test of courage . . . the mile is a test of both.

All the Kids Went for John

Valiant wanted desperately to run the fastest mile of his life Monday. This was his last chance to molest the Canadian schoolboy record (he holds the B.C. mark of 4.21) held by Bruce Kidd of Toronto.

He might have made it, too, except for a gross mis calculation. Having nobody to run against, he elected to set a bristling early pace and maintain it. He wheeled the first quarter in 57 flat. That's John

Landy stuff and not something for 18-year-old boys to emu-"He won't make it (a new record) today," said Gordon

Hartley, his track tutor.

Valiant cut the throttle in the second quarter. "2.03 for the half," chanted Archie McKinnon. Valiant's long, silky style of running began to give way the third time around. He began to chop and you knew Mr. Kidd's record wasn't going to be bothered.

As he came down the stretch the last time, announcer

As he came down the stretch the last time, announcer McKinnon exhorted the color-splashed stands "to show John what you think of him." Fifteen hundred kids stood on their feet and roared and screamed and clapped. And you could not tell an Oak Bay youngster from one from Vic High or Esquimalt or Mount View or Mount Douglas.

His time wasn't spectacular—4.25.7. He only broke the meet record by 12.3 seconds. He was only 9.3 seconds quicker than the winner of Vancouver high schools' track

Unforgettable Buie Saw It Out

Other young whippets scratched cleat marks across the cinders, leaving memories that won't soon be forgotten.

Is there something you want to know? De you want to win a set of valuable books or other instructive prizes? Then ask Andy.

Andy will answer questions submitted by child readers and those who submit the questions he selects to answer will receive worthwhile prizes. The youngster who asks the first question answered each day receives a 38-volume set of the World Book Encyclopedia and of the second question a Hammond Atlas or Globe.

Address your questions to "Ask Andy." Victoria Dally Times.

Andy sends a complete, 20-volume set of the World Book yelopedia to Sandra Grey, age 15, of Lincoln, Calif., for her question

How Do Penguins Hatch Their Eggs?

A mother bird hatches her tors to the south polar regions precious eggs by keeping them tell us that penguins are very precious eggs by keeping them warm. She may have to sit on her nest, cuddling the eggs under her soft feathers for many days for, if the eggs are left to get cold during this pend, they will never hatch into chicks. Our birds nest on the warm ground or in the thick foliage of sheltering grass or some dry seaweed to the warm ground or in the thick foliage of sheltering trees. But the penguins, or many of them, live in the frozen Antarctic where there are no trees, no shrubs, no grasses and the ground is always buried deep under ice and snow.

It is natural to wonder how a mother bird can keep her eggs warm in these unfriendly conditions. Yer we know that these pebbles are very they perform this miracle, for comes courting, this is what he brings to please her. He

INDIAN CULTURE CAN AID WHITES

By ELIZABETH MOTHERWELL

OTTAWA (CP)—Canadian Indians should have the same rights to cultural survival as other groups such as French Canadians, the Canadian Welfare Council was told Monday.

Father Andre Renaud of Ottawa said Canada's In-

Father Andre Renaud of Ottawa said Canada's Indians don't want to be "obliterated" and have much to teach other Canadians.

He objected to efforts at "integration" and said the term should be "association." Other Canadians could benefit from the Indians' culture and learn to be "better Canadians" from this country's first citizens.

Father Renaud, a Roman Catholic priest of the Oblate order and national secretary of the Indian and Eskimo welfare committee, addressed some 500 delegates attending the council's 41st annual meeting, opened Monday.

He said that for a long time "anything that smelled of Indianness was tabboo."

. There now was a more enlightened appreciation of the Indian's potential and heritage.

The Indian wanted to remain an Indian—and knew has something we don't have."

uses power to accumulate but to give.

'Indians feel we are barbarians in terms of nature.

We destroy nature for individual satisfaction."

Father Renaud also said Indians should be encouraged to participate in sports events with other Canadians to show their own prowess. If encouraged to engage in occupations in which they have always excelled they could thrive as economic units, he said.

FIRST-HAND V.I. LOOK

The three-day convention of the Canadian Automobile Association, which opens Thursday in the Empress Hotel will bring to Vancouver Island the directors and managers of affiliated clubs all across Canada for a first-hand look at the attractions of this area for the motoring public.

In a news release from the CAA's Ottawa headquarters, president R. J. Hastings said he expects that the convention will result in an increase in tourist traffic to Victoria and the Island.

Mr. Hastings, who arrives in Victoria Wednesday with Col. J. G. McQueen, executive secretary of the CAA, said: "With the opening of the Trans-Canada Highway and a See Canada First campaign by our auto clubs, the whole Island can expect to benefit."

Official welcome to the delegates from the B.C. gov-ernment will be given at a dinner Thursday with Recrea-tion and Conservation Minister Earle Westwood as host. A reception will be held at Government House the same

Majorities Sharply Reduced

(By the Canadian Press)

Progressive Conserva tives weathered sharply-reduced majorities to score an impressive three-out-offour triumph in Monday's federal byelections.

The government retained Kings constituency on Prince Edward Island, Restigouche Madawaska in northern New Bruns wick and Esquimalt-Saanich on Vancouver Island. It tost Leeds in eastern On-tario to a vigorous Liberal can-didate who out-campaigned his Conservative opponent despite the handicap of paralyzed legs. The combination of the Liberals' healthy win in Leeds and the Conservatives' slim margins in their victories produced a situation in which the Liberals received more votes than the government although

LIBERALS GET MOST VOTES

Liberals won only one seat in four federal by-elections Monday but they received 44 per cent of the vote compared with 43 per cent received by the Progressive Conservatives, who won three.

In the 1958 general election the PCs won all four ridings and received 60 per cent of the vote compared with 33 per cent for the Liberals.

Returns from all but 12 of 523 polls in the four constituencies showed the Liberals with 36,048 votes compared with 35,233 for the PCs. The New Party polled 6,712 votes, Social Credit 4,594 and Socialists 143. The almost-complete total was 82,730

Progressive Conservatives 53,682, the CCF, combining forces with the Canadian Labor Congress this summer to form the New Party, 4,755, Social Credit 1,869 and Labor Progressive Party 280. The total was 90,100.

Historic Graduation Witnessed by 700

First Degrees Awarded to 37

SOLEMN BUT COLORFUL

By AB KENT

With a nod to traditions as old as antiquity tself, 37 men and women were granted the first degrees in the history of Victoria College on its new Gordon Head campus Monday.

More than 700 people watched the historic occasion in the sweltering heat of the college's new gymnasium, converted from Camp Gordon Head drill hall.

Formal solemnity reigned—the black academic robes, stately chancellor's procession, learned speeches—yet the overall scene was splashed and enlivened with color from banks of flowers, the scarlet, blues and gold of official hoods and doctorate's gowns, the bright red tunics of Royal Canadian Engineers' bandsmen.

The vast room was brightened, too, by festoons of ribb and colored lenses on the lights, and screens of colored cloth along each side of the seating area.

Less noticeable at first but perhaps most significant, the faces of graduates seated in the first rows, alert, glowing, confident, reflected the beams of many faces in the crowd claiming them as sons, daughters, husbands or wives.
It was a memorable sight.

TO ONE KNEE

Each in turn, as his name was called, filed before the assembled dignitaries, officers of the College and University of British Columbia and College faculty, and with a gesture dating at least from Elizabethan times, bent to one knee and received the tap on the head from U.B.C. Chancellor, A. E. (Dal) Grauer.

UNDER NEW BILL

Trafficker Can Draw Life Term

OTTAWA (CP)-A new Varcotics Control Act was introduced in the Com-mons today paving the way for federal-provincial agreements on creation of new institutions to treat drug addicts.

The bill, introduced by Health Minister Monteith, will replace the old Opium and Narcotic Drugs Act, and provides for sentences of preven-tive detention and confinement for treatment for drug peddlers, and addicts.

Justice Minister Fulton an-ounced last month that the first institution to operate under the new government program will be located in British Columbia, the province with the biggest drug problem.

The bill contained a clause permitting the federal cabinet for make agreement, with any province for the continement of drug addicts in special institutions for treatment, under provisions of the federal penitentiaries and parole acts.

The bill makes simple possession of a narcotic an of the continement of the contin fence punishable by seven years in prison. Importing and trafficking in narcotics is punishable by sentences up to life imprisonment.
